In the circuit court yesterday Judge McBride denied the motion of the defendant for a new trial in the case of Mrs. Ella Scott vs. the A. & C. R. R. A new trial was asked on the ground that one of the jurors was guilty of misconduct during consideration of the case, and on alleged errors occurring at the trial. Plaintiff recovered $4000 for the death of her husband in the accident.

J. C. McCue and G. A. Warfield have resigned as principals of the Adair and Olney schools. Mrs. Lemon has been named to succeed Professor McCue and J. W. McCormac to succeed Professor Warfield. Miss Gertrude Hulst, of Eugene, has been elected as third assistant. Miss Alice Gray and Miss Amy Holmes have also been elected to positions, but have not yet been assigned.

Ten steamers have so far arrived at Prisco from Japan with new crop teas, these shipments being for the general American trade and export. Of this total quantity, 60 per cent is for the well known tea importer, A. Schilling & Co. Their teas are sold in Astoria by Ross, Higgins & Co., Johnson Bros., A. V. Allen, Scholfield & Hauke, V. H. Coffey, Clatsop Mill Co., P. Lawler & Co., and by the last named at Seaside.

The excursion given by the Foresters to Seaside on Sunday was one of the most successful events of the kind held this season. Fully 800 persons made the trip and, as the day was an ideal one, all enjoyed the outing. The excursion was very well conducted and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the day. While the train was passing the O. R. & N. dock on its way to the beach Lee Bottom attempted to board it but, missing his hold, was thrown into the water. He swam ashore, after a narrow escape from death under the wheels.

This evening Zanolch will commence his three-nights' engagement of conjuring, combined with art, science and fun, at Fishers' Opera House. A royal entertainment; it will make your hair stand on end; next minute you will split your sides from laughter. This entertainment is strictly moral in every particular and is patronized by the clergy of all denominations, as well as by the better class of the community. This being Zanolch's 26th year before the public and during this time has accumulated a show of great magnitude. An astonishing lot of useful presents given away each evening. Reserved seats 30 cents; gallery 20 cents. Now on sale at Griffin & Reed's.

An entirely unexpected and most peculiar southwest windstorm came up suddenly at noon yesterday, and before it had blown over the fine weather was turned into rain. The wind blew in gusts during the afternoon, raising the dust and blinding pedestrians. Even the street cars were filled with flying dust, and the storm was quite disagreeable. Toward evening rain commenced falling and the dust nuisance was abated. The storm prevailed all along the river and in Portland, where it was extremely warm. Between Astoria and Clatskanie trees were blown down, and just as the up train was pulling into Seaside a tree was blown across the track breaking some of the car windows.

Judge McBride yesterday handed down a decision in the divorce case of C. C. Grimes vs. Sarah A. Grimes. The decision denies a decree to either party and taxes the costs equally against each. The parties to the suit were allowed until the second day of the next term to file a bill of exceptions. According to the complaint in the suit thus settled yesterday, the couple were married in Churchill county, Tex., January 13, 1875. The complaint accused the defendant of infidelity, asked custody of the minor children for the plaintiff, and further prayed that the defendant's title to property owned by her be set aside for the benefit of plaintiff and the children.

The Sun baseball team, of Cathlamet, settled accounts with the team of the local Eagles lodge at A. F. C. park Sunday afternoon. The visitors had the game under control at every stage of the proceedings, and won by a score of 25 to 1. The one lone run scored by the Astorians was due to a bad error on the part of the Cathlamet third baseman, who appeared to be the only weak man on the team. The home nine put up a miserable game, and during the course of the runner around the diamond the ball was not hit when the Eagles scored, the runner having been hit by a pitched ball. After reaching first he stole second, and an effort to throw him out at third resulted in the error that netted the only run.

At the meeting of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners Saturday night, six new members were taken in. The local brotherhood now has a membership of 42 members in good standing. At the conclusion of the meeting a social was held. The brotherhood elected the following officers: President, Adolph Johnson; vice-president, William Holchouse; recording secretary, T. D. Souden; financial secretary, J. Shorgen, Jr.; treasurer, W. Douglas; conductor, Mat Nyland; warden, J. N. Jorgensen; trustee, J. Shorgen, Jr. The following gentlemen were named as delegates to the Federation of Labor: Adolph Johnson, J. N. Jorgensen, Mat Nyland, William Holchouse and T. D. Souden.

The Benson Logging Company, which operates two logging camps at Oak Point and another at Deep River, is now preparing to build a logging road from the Upper Clatskanie to the Clatskanie railroad depot, at which point it is proposed to put logs in the water. President Benson, of the company, who was seen by an Astorian man, said the proposed building eight or ten miles of road for a starter if satisfactory arrangements could be made for the necessary right-of-way. The new proposed road will tap a tract of 8000 acres belonging to Mr. Benson. On this tract is 250,000,000 feet of timber, worth, after it is logged, more than $5,000,000. The inauguration of this enterprise will help Clatskanie which is becoming a most prosperous town, and have its effect on Astoria, which receives a goodly portion of the trade of the people of the western portion of Columbia County.

The sudden illumination of the sky near the mouth of the river at a late hour last night indicated that a great fire was raging on the West Side, but all efforts to get information regarding the conflagration proved futile. The blaze seemed to be at New Astoria and its extent made it appear certain that much property was destroyed. The fire burned for more than two hours, apparently dying down at times. It was at first supposed that the Flavel Hotel was burning, but a view from the West Astoria hill convinced spectators that the hotel was not on fire. The central telephone operator in this city made unsuccessful efforts to raise New Astoria, the supposed scene of the fire, but the operator at that place could not be communicated. The lessee of the Hotel Flavel, Mrs. Mitchell, phoned that the hotel was safe, but she was unable to say where the fire was. If the blaze really occurred at New Astoria it is indeed remarkable that the operator there did not acquaint the Astoria office with the facts. Opinion was divided last night as to whether the fire was at New Astoria or farther down the river, at Fort Stevens or the life-saving station.

Among the cases settled at yesterday's session of the circuit court was that of M. J. Kinney et al. vs. W. G. Gosslin et al. This suit was brought to enjoin the county from paying to the state board of immigration the sum of $125, as Clatsop's share in the good work that the board was to do. Mr. Gosslin was a member of the commission and the suit was instituted by the Taxpayers' League. The sheriff and county treasurer were likewise made parties to the suit. Judge McBride handed down a decision of judgment and costs. In the case of T. T. Taylor vs. Matti Korpela judgment for recovery of the property without costs was rendered. This suit involved possession of the launch Lidia and Marie, which broke adrift from Taylor's sailing grounds, and which was found by Korpela, who refused to surrender it unless paid $250. The launch has since been libeled in the United States court. Other orders were handed down as follows: John Fox vs. Ida J. Hanthorn demurrer of plaintiff overruled; Herald Publishing Company vs. J. H. D. Gray, et al. judgment; C. O. Pick vs. Charles Welsensien, stricken from the docket; J. T. Ross vs. Andrew Bakka, judgment.

Last night's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was an interesting one, and several important matters were considered. Some time ago the chamber wrote the agents of the several transcontinental railroads, asking their co-operation in securing home-seekers' rates for this city. The Northern Pacific people had referred the matter to A. D. Charlton, who has written the proper officials in the interest of Astoria. A. L. Craig, of the O. R. & N. had written a very favorable letter pledging the active support of his company. He requests that the chamber send him 10,000 to 25,000 pamphlets descriptive of Clatsop county, and says he will cause them to be distributed to advantage by the company's Eastern agents. This will, says Mr. Craig, aid in securing the desired rates. It is thought the Great Northern will also help the Astoria movement, and that rates will be secured. At the suggestion of Mr. Welch, the secretary was instructed to ask the aid of the Portland Board of Trade, through its secretary, Mr. Moore. An invitation from the International Mining Congress to attend the Butte meeting was received. Any Astorian contemplating a Butte trip will, if he desires, be given credentials to the congress and thus afforded an opportunity of seeing underground Butte. An invitation to join the Civic Improvement League was favorably acted upon.

Concomitantly lodge of Redmen, No. 7, was honored last night with a visit from Dr. Edwin D. Wiley, of Des Moines, Ia., great inebriate of the great council of the United States. Great Sachem Frank Bucket, of the Washington district; Grand Representative Bell, of the jurisdiction of Washington; L. B. Reeder, senior saramore of the Oregon district, and Otto Schumann, past grand sachem of Oregon, accompanied Dr. Wiley and were guests of the order. Members of the tribes at Chinook and New Astoria, Cathlamet and Clatskanie were present to assist in welcoming the distinguished visitors. In all, 190 or more Redmen were at the hall. Dr. Wiley's address was most interesting. He said the order had increased more than 50,000 in membership during the past year, and that it now had between 200,000 and 400,000 members. Tribes had been organized in the Philippines and in Hawaii and would soon be found in all our new possessions. Thirty per cent of the membership, said Dr. Wiley, was in the Spanish war. The order of Redmen was organized in 1822 by veterans of the war of 1812-14, and is purely a patriotic order. Charles Dahlstrom, retiring sachem of the local lodge, was presented with an emblematic watch chain last night, and Great Keeper of Records W. C. A. Pohl was also remembered with a token of appreciation. A banquet followed the session and the evening proved a most enjoyable and instructive one.

The report of the Chamber of Commerce roads committee on the matter of extending the water mains to the East and West Ends was submitted at last night's meeting of the chamber. The report was to the effect that members of the committee had interviewed the water commission and the people interested. At Smith Point there was a general demand for water, while the people of the East End had stated that there was insufficient water for drinking purposes, to say nothing of water for fire protection. Mr. Welch said there was plenty of pipe to make the necessary extensions, but that the water commissioners were averse to an expenditure that would not insure certain returns. The commissioners had asked a guarantee in the way of water consumers, but the committee had declined to take any action along that line. Mr. Welch was satisfied the extension would prove a paying investment. He said further that, by making a connection at Irving avenue and Sixteenth street, sufficient pressure could be secured to give ample supplies throughout the East End, although, in reality, three reservoirs were needed to supply the city—one at the present power house, one in the East End and one in West Astoria. The committee's report recommended that the chamber urge upon the commissioners the necessity of making the extensions, and Secretary Holden will communicate with that body for the chamber. Extension of the main to West Astoria will rest largely with the property owners there, who must first open some good street to Smith Point, the present thoroughfare having been closed by the council.

SYMPATHY FOR ENGLAND.

In the recent disaster at St. Vincent the United States was among the first to extend sympathy to England and also to offer assistance to the fortunate survivors. Giving sympathy is a very appropriate way of showing our feelings for those in distress, but the person who is unable to eat or sleep on account of a weak or disordered stomach needs more than sympathy. He wants a medicine that will cure him. Then Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is needed, because it positively cures loss of appetite, belching, flatulency, indigestion, dyspepsia, insomnia or nervousness. Every sufferer should therefore try a bottle of it at once. Don't accept a substitute. The genuine has our private stamp over the neck of the bottle.
